

envecon2020 - Applied Environmental Economics Conference

Friday 13th March 2020, London

The UK's Network of Environmental Economists (UKNEE) is proud to release the call for envecon 2020. Now in its 18th year, envecon brings together environmental economists and interested parties from academia, consultancy and the public and private sectors. It is a multidisciplinary, multi-sector conference and provides a unique opportunity to share research methods and results, and practical experience in applying environmental economics in the UK and elsewhere.

This is a call for papers and posters. envecon 2020 will feature a dedicated poster session within the agenda, and we are pleased to invite your submissions. The following topics are some areas of interest for papers and posters, but the conference is open to all topics so long as they focus on the application in practice.

TOOLS OF ENVIRONMENTAL ECONOMICS	ECONOMIC SECTORS / ENVIRONMENTAL TOPICS	HORIZONTAL THEMES
A. Economic valuation B. Economic appraisal C. Economic instruments	D. Energy and climate change mitigation policies E. Water and wastewater management F. Waste management G. Transport H. Agriculture and forestry I. Marine environment J. Green Infrastructure and urban life	K. Natural Capital L. Adaptation to climate change M. Private sector and investor involvement N. Behavioural economics

As always, envecon will also host stands from relevant organisations as part of the inclusive, networking component of the event. For full details on envecon 2020 and previous conferences, please contact uknee@uknee.org.uk.

Please submit your 2-page abstract by Monday 16th December 2019 to uknee@uknee.org.uk.

You can also follow us on  @UKNEE for news, information, and updates on UKNEE events.

With the support of then European Association of Environmental and Resource Economists.

- All papers should display academic rigour and show evidence of practical application. We are interested in showcasing papers that have policy relevance and have been used in decision-making by the public and/or private sectors. Papers do not have to be unique applications of new theory; evidence-based policy benefits from repeated applications.
- Abstracts must not exceed 2 sides of A4, in 12 point font, double spaced. They should convey information on the economic theory tested; context of the practical application (actual and/or potential); results and policy implications.
- Please ensure that your abstract indicates which theme(s) your paper falls into and the author for correspondence.
- Selected papers will be presented in parallel sessions. Posters will be available to view throughout the conference as well as a dedicated poster session after lunch.
- Papers and posters for presentation will be selected by the Scientific Committee comprising of academic, public and private experts. The Committee includes Dr Paolo Agnolucci, University College London; Prof. Giles Atkinson, London School of Economics; Prof. Ian Bateman, University of East Anglia; Dr. Diane Burgess, Department of Agriculture and Rural Development, Northern Ireland; Prof. Mike Christie, University of Aberystwyth; Prof. Simon Dietz, London School of Economics; Dr. Silvia Ferrini, University of East Anglia; Prof. Ben Groom, London School of Economics; Prof. Nick Hanley, University of Glasgow; Dr. Ioannis Kountouris, Imperial College London; Prof. Susana Mourato, London School of Economics; Ms. Ece Ozdemiroglu, etfec; Prof. Dan Rigby, Manchester University; Prof. Kerry Turner, University of East Anglia and Prof. Ken Willis, University of Newcastle.
- Those whose papers / posters are accepted should register to attend the conference by Friday 22nd February 2020. Further information regarding registration, presentations, papers and posters will be circulated nearer the time.

Please circulate this call to all potentially interested colleagues in research, and public, private and third-party sectors.

Important Dates:

Monday 16th December 2019: Deadline for submission of abstracts

Monday 20th January 2020: Notification of acceptance

Friday 13th March 2020: envecon day